

Questex and Total Show Technology Celebrate 10-Year Nightclub & Bar Show Partnership

Total Show Technology Provides Annual AV Production Support for America's Largest Bar Expo

LAS VEGAS (PRWEB) October 31, 2018 -- Questex, LLC, and Total Show Technology are celebrating 10 years of partnership on Questex's Nightclub & Bar Show, the nation's most influential gathering of bar and nightlife professionals. For over 30 years, more than 30,000 industry visitors have gathered from across the U.S. and 50+ other countries to learn, network and grow the industry. Total Show Technology provides total show audio visual (AV) production for the high-profile annual event.

Says Chris Correa, Director of Event Operations at Questex, "For the past 10 years, Total Show Technology's AV production support has greatly contributed to the success of our industry-leading event. As our valued partner, they put people first and are fully committed to our show each year. We appreciate their continued collaboration, dedication and service and look forward to working with them at our 34th annual show in 2019."

Nightclub & Bar Show is a one-stop shop for learning about cutting-edge new products, new technology and new trends in the bar and nightlife industry. Total Show Technology manages audio, video, lighting, staging and total show production for the event's two-day general session and three days of educational sessions. Total Show Technology also supports the show's technology needs and exhibitor trade show booths. Nightclub & Bar Show is the place to reach decision-makers and influencers in the bar and nightlife market, making exceptional audio visual production critically important for the event.

Nightclub & Bar Show 2019 will be held from March 25-27, 2019 at the Las Vegas Convention Center. The 2019 show will host 600+ exhibitors on the expo floor; industry experts in a general session and three-day conference program with 70+ sessions, workshops and offsite trainings; and an exceptional live entertainment lineup at iconic, high-end Las Vegas venues. Total Show Technology uses engaging, eye-catching LED video displays for the general session and shares new technology and production ideas with Questex for the event each year.
